Informational Guide

Introduction

Since July 2002, the Kentucky Law Enforcement Council has administered a Career Development Program for Kentucky's law enforcement officers and telecommunicators. Kentucky is the eighth comprehensive, statewide career development program for law enforcement in the nation, and will offer the most comprehensive program for telecommunicators.

The Career Development Program provides structure to the training process through career tracking. Kentucky's program offers two career tracks for law enforcement officers, Law Enforcement Officer Track and Law Enforcement Management Track, and two career tracks for telecommunicators, Telecommunicator Track and Telecommunicator Management Track. Each track has steps of achievement that consist of required levels of training, education, and experience.

Law Enforcement Officer Track

- Intermediate Officer
- Advanced Officer
- Training Officer
- Investigator
- Advanced Investigator
- Crime Scene Officer
- Traffic Officer
- Advanced Deputy Sheriff

Program Management

The Career Development Program is offered and managed by KLEC. Most KLEC approved courses are applicable to the program, depending upon the participant's career track and step requirement.

Use of the Matrix

Career step training, education, and experience requirements are represented by matrices, which are included in this booklet.

Intermediate Law Enforcement Officer

Training: POPS Certificate + 160 hours of in-service training.
60% (96 hours) must be in technical skill development.
40% (64 hours) must be in human skill development.

Education must be satisfied with either a college degree or training points*

15 Advanced Individual Training hours = 1 training point or 1 semester hour = 1 training point

	Bachelor Degree	Assoc. Degree	95	80	65	50	35
Years of Full-time Experience	2	4	4	5	6	7	8

* See training point total at end of personal training transcript.

An example is the above matrix for the Intermediate Step in the Law Enforcement Officer Career Track. This step is directed towards law enforcement officers that wish to enhance their skills in the patrol function. In order to achieve this step, the participant must hold the basic POPS certificate, complete 160 hours of in-service training with a focus on technical and human skill development, and possess the required mix of education and experience.

For the purpose of illustration, suppose a participant with five years of full-time law enforcement experience completed the in-service requirements for the Intermediate Officer Step. That officer would need either a college degree or a minimum of 80 semester hours or 80 educational training points before KLEC would award a Certificate of Achievement. Training points are awarded at one point for every fifteen hours of KLEC approved training, including basic training. In this example, the participant attended a 640 hour basic training class and 160 hours of in-service training for a total of 800 hours of training. This equates to 53 training points, $800/15 = 53$, meaning the participant needs only 27 additional training points or 27 semester hours of college to fulfill the Intermediate Officer Step requirements, $80 - 53 = 27$. Training points are not needed if the applicant has a college degree.

Why Participate in the Career Development Program?

Participants in states that use Career Development Programs report that the programs add value to their training. This is accomplished by focusing law enforcement officers and telecommunicators on training that is most relevant to their current or future assignment. Participants that wish to enter management, for example, use steps in the management track to focus on courses and education that develop a well-rounded understanding of management principles. The same is true for those that wish to enhance their operational abilities through Intermediate and Advanced career steps, as well as specialized steps like Traffic or Advanced Deputy Sheriff or Training Officer. In essence, program participation ensures that training and educational efforts are aligned with participant career objectives. Additionally, participants report increased salaries with career development programs. Officers and telecommunicators become more effective and valuable as they advance through the program, causing salaries and benefits to increase.

Participants will be awarded Certificates of Achievement by the KLEC as they complete career steps. Additionally, council will acknowledge participants through media releases, uniform pins, and like means.
